Thank you for contributing your time to help make this free community festival welcoming and memorable. Your service supports families, literacy, and creative experiences for young people.

Your time counts hour for hour

Each hour you serve counts as one volunteer service hour. Please sign in and sign out with the volunteer coordinator so we can accurately verify and document your time.

Your certificate arrives within one week

Within one week after the festival, we will send you a volunteer certificate documenting your verified service hours. Keep it for your records and use it to support your resume, scholarship applications, college applications, job applications, or school service requirements. Acceptance is subject to each school, program, or organization's requirements.
